Our City Comment & discussion

Let's Heed
Eagle Rock's
Annexation
Example
And Stay Just
Glendale

WE have before us a circular distributed by the Eagle Rock-Los Angeles Consolidation committee at the time the citizens of that city were considering the question of annexing to Los Angeles.

This circular starts out with the following statement: "Reasons why you should vote for annexation to Los Angeles." It continues with a very elaborate detailed account of the benefits to be gained by taking this step.

AMONG the points especially covered are the following: High school, taxes, telephone, water, electricity, gas, sewers, streets, police and public utilities.

This circular surely gives enough reasons to convince the most skeptical and without doubt helped a great deal in carrying the election.

THE election is now over and the late city of Eagle Rock is no more and the citizens are beginning to realize that the promises made by the Consolidation Committee are not being carried out. An interesting article appeared in a Los Angeles paper yesterday which is enlightening and will serve as a sample of what Glendale could expect if we should ever vote in favor of joining Los Angeles.

THE article is headed as follows: "Eagle Rock says Utilities Rates Are Exorbitant," and continues: "Eagle Rock having recently annexed to Los Angeles, complained yesterday to the City Council through the Good Government League at being charged higher gas, telephone and street railway rates than are charged other sections of Los Angeles. The matter probably will be sent to the State Railroad Commission for adjudication."

OF course the good people of Eagle Rock were much disappointed to find that their dreams of untold benefits were not to be realized.

The tax rate figure was another blow hard to accept. The city tax rate was $1.33 per hundred dollars while the Los Angeles rate was $1.23, so, of course, they figured on a saving in taxes but lo and behold, to their surprise they learn that the city of Los Angeles has increased its own tax rate 32 cents and for good measure added another 17 cents to the Eagle Rock rate. This gives the little suburb of Los Angeles which formerly was the city of Eagle Rock a rate of $1.71 or 38 cents higher than their last year's rate and in addition an increase in valuation which will cause a chill to course up and down the backs of the erstwhile Eagle Rock citizens when they receive their tax bills.

THE promises made regarding the High school situation were not carried out. If it were not for the fact that the trustees of G. U. H. S. opened their hearts out of sympathy for the children the school situation would be unbearable. So much for the High school. As to the grammar school the congestion is nearly beyond description and this condition cannot be remedied until another year for the reason that the Los Angeles schools made no provision in their budget for the Eagle Rock schools.

THIS same reason will probably be advanced to explain the lack of police protection, etc. It may also affect the caring for the streets.

WE are not writing this article as a knock against Los Angeles as we fully appreciate the manifold benefits of living in that city. But we do feel that Glendale as the City of Glendale has much more to offer us who live here and also will prove more of an incentive to the stranger to move here than she would as a suburb or borough of Los Angeles. Let's let well enough alone, forget annexation either under existing conditions or as a borough and rest content to live in not only "The fastest growing city in America" but also in the "Best and Most American City in the United States."

Salvation Army Raising Ten Million Dollar Quake Relief Fund

DETAILS OF BIG QUAKE DISASTER COMING IN

Condensed Information Is Given in Associated Press Specials

[By Associated Press]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Consul Dickover reported today to the state department the following list of American dead, missing and probable dead in the Yokohama disaster.
Pharmacist Paul R. Cannon, U. S. Navy.
Pharmacist A. Ingoglia, U. S. Navy.
Mrs. H. C. Burnell, San Francisco.
H. W. Morse of the International Banking Corporation.
Captain Stimson of the Steamship Steel Navigator.
Robert Swain of Yokohama.

IWAKI, JAPAN, Sept. 6.—(Via Radio Corporation of America to the Associated Press).—Damage southwest of Tokio is summed up by reports today as follows:
Yokohama—Annihilated.
Yokosuka—Twelve miles across the sea from Yokohama—damaged greatly, to an extent unknown. Population 100,000 or more.
Kamakura, 30 miles from Tokio—Collapsed, mostly burned; all villages about Hayama, a bathing resort, lost.
Hiratsuka and Oiso, small seashore towns, 33 and 40 miles from Tokio, respectively, destroyed.
Kozu, a way station for tourists—spared.
Damage slight west of Mishima.

OSAKA, Sept. 6.—All money in the Bank of Japan vaults at Tokio was saved from destruction in the fire which followed the earthquake and tidal wave, it became known here today.
A recapitulation of the earthquake and fire area today showed Yokohama as its center, extending north and south about 110 miles and 140 miles east and west from that city.
This area includes 33 counties, five large cities inhabited by 7,000,000 people, who were caught in the disaster. It is estimated that about 70 per cent of the cities and towns within the stricken area were destroyed.
Yokohama, according to reports received here, was totally destroyed and only about one-fourth of Tokio remains.
The fire at Yokohama brought freedom to felons confined in prison there, as they were released when it became apparent the prison was in the path of the flames.
Additional divisions of troops have been ordered from Osaka to Tokio equipped with provisions and machine guns.

IWAKI WIRELESS STATION, Japan, Sept. 6.—A courier, returning today from Tokio, described the disaster there as unspeakable. The city, he said, was three-fourths burned.
On ponds in the park he found charred unidentified bodies floating like fishes. Within a certain area all things had been reduced to ashes except iron frames and brick pillars.
The burned frames of street cars and automobiles clogged the streets. The sufferers were gathered in public squares and parks, lying under sheets on mats, living on the scanty food supplied by the authorities.
The army, mobilizing, was restoring means of communication.
The courier reported that provisions in quantities were expected from the northeastern and northwestern regions within a few days.
The entire country along which he passed was contributing to the relief fund.

GLENDALE QUOTA RED CROSS FUND IS SET AT $3432

Latest information from Washington is that the Red Cross authorities have decided to appeal to the public for $50,000 for Japanese relief. Glendale's quota is $3432 and this sum the local chapter is busily engaged in raising.

HARDING MEMORIAL STAMPS ON SALE

Harding Memorial stamps have made their appearance in Glendale and are now on sale at the post-office and drug stores.

GLENDALE WINS BARNYARD GOLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Glendale continues to win. Without question Glendale has the prettiest girls in the country. Local residents acknowledge that—they don't have to prove it.

This city has been winning for the past few years so far as growth in population and increase in building permits is concerned. She has the sweetest singing mayor in these parts. And she wins blue ribbons in other lines, too.

For instance: The horseshoe pitching team from Glendale ran away with the state championship down at Santa Monica on Wednesday. The ring tossers from this place journeyed down to the water's edge with the intention of making the other "quilt singers" "set up an' take notice."

They did that very thing. Indeed they did—and what's more they came home with the "championship" of the state tucked beneath their arms. Needless to say the boys who turned the trick and their comrades are feeling mighty good about the whole affair. They've put Glendale on the map, "horseshoeically" speaking. And they declare with a whoop that they're going to "keep 'er there."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 8 TO BE BUICK DAY IN GLENDALE

Saturday, September 8 will be Buick Day in Glendale.

At that time a complete line of the 1924 Buicks will be on display to the motorists and prospective automobile owners of this city. Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand, local dealers for the Buick, are making every effort to give all those who call at their establishment, a real automobile show. There will be two Buick chassis on display, stripped way down so that the caller may see just how that car is made—how sturdy are the working parts of this popular machine.

There will also be two separate motor displays. These will show the powerful Buick motor in all its parts. These motors are cut down so that the parts as they operate, may be plainly seen.

Everyone in Glendale is invited to this Buick exhibition, the desire of the company being that as many as possible may see the "greatest Buicks ever built."

PARLIAMENTARIANS MEET FRIDAY MORNING

APPLICATIONS FOR BUS PERMIT BEFORE CITY COUNCILMEN TONIGHT

Two Submitted, One by Pacific Electric and Other by Verdugo Hills Transportation Company, Have Been Given Consideration by Council Members

OPEN DISCUSSION IS SET FOR TONIGHT

Councilmen Anxious for the Public to Take Part in the Consideration and Decide on Which is the Best Proposition for Glendale

After a detailed consideration that has extended over several weeks the city council will again take up the two applications for bus permits tonight. These were laid before the council by the Pacific Electric and Verdugo Hills Transportation companies on August 9. Owing to the vital importance of the issue the council has been making a thorough examination of each application, aiming to reach the satisfactory solution for Glendale.

In determining the best proposition the council faces a difficult situation. Both companies offer financial backing and reliable connections.

The Pacific Electric company has desired to extend its lines for some time, but this is the most elaborate plan that it has yet submitted. The routes are lined up as extensions of the company's system now in use, and will cover most of the city at the present time. New tracts being opened and developing rapidly are included in the company's future plans for further extensions, when traffic warrants. A 30-minute service, with additional service when necessary, is the aim.

All local Glendale fares are set at six cents, or ten tickets for 50 cents, the tickets to be interchangeable and good for use any time without limit. The only exception to this is the Pacific avenue-Kenneth road route, where the 5-cent limit would extend to Pacific avenue and the Burbank line. Beyond that point, the fare would be 10 cents.

The tickets selling at ten for 50 cents would also be honored on rail lines. One-half fare rate is offered school children where forty tickets are purchased at one time.

Free transfers would be issued between buses, also between cars and buses within the 6-cent fare limits, and from the Los Angeles cars to points on bus lines. These would correspond with fare limits on rail lines as specified in the application.

The Pacific Electric company is now operating three buses in Glendale. The proposed operation will require six, with an increase from time to time as additional service is required.

The proposed routes of these bus lines are as follows:
Route No. 1—From Brand and Broadway west to Pacific, south on Pacific to San Fernando road, south on San Fernando to Cypress, east on Cypress to Glendale avenue, north on Glendale avenue to Palmer, east on Palmer to Adams, north on Adams to Broadway, east on Broadway to Verdugo road, south on Verdugo to Maple, west on Maple to Adams.

Route No. 2—From Verdugo road and Broadway east on Broadway to Brand, north on Brand to California, west on California to Central, north on Central to Myrtle, west on Myrtle to Columbus, north on Columbus to Doran, west on Doran to Pacific, north on Pacific to Kenneth, west on Kenneth to Grand View.

Route No. 3—From San Fernando road and Doran east on Doran to Kentworth, south on Kentworth to Salem, east on Salem to Columbus, south on Columbus to Wilson, east on Wilson to Central, south on Central to Broadway, east on Broadway to Jackson, north on Jackson to Doran, east on Doran to Isabel, south on Isabel to Lexington, west on Lexington to Jackson. Trips out and in will be made over the same routes.

The Verdugo Hills Transportation company presents a plan that is less elaborate, but offers better facilities for outlying transportation than the city is now provided with. The Verdugo company has for years been conducting a stage line between the La Crescenta Valley, through Glendale to Los Angeles, via Glendale avenue. The local system proposed will connect with the present through line in various places so that the through line may be made to serve local transportation needs. Some of the details of the Verdugo company's plan of service are as follows:

All territory between the city limits of Glendale on the north and the Verdugo wash on the south, 5 cents.
All territory between Verdugo wash and Monterey road on the north, Los Feliz road on the south, Verdugo road on the east and the San Fernando road on the west, 5 cents.
Except as otherwise specified herein, children under 5 years of age and not occupying a seat, when accompanied by parent or guardian paying a full fare, will be carried free of charge; children from 5 to 10 years will be charged one-half fare.
Tickets sold at the fares named will be limited as follows:
One-way, within 3 days of the date of sale, except that cash fares collected by operators of cars will be for continuous passage on such cars.
Round-trip, sold by agents, going trip within 3 days from date of sale, return trip within 30 days of date of sale. Sold by operators, going trip continuous passage on such cars, return trip within 30 days.
Thirty-ride, individual commutation, within 30 days of date of sale.
Sixty-ride individual commutation, within 40 days of date of sale.
Forty-ride school tickets, 30 days from date of sale.
Free transfers will be issued within each zone on local cars. Free transfers will be issued on through cars, within each zone, where local cars are not operated over the complete route.
Tickets may be purchased on any car for passage through more than one zone or for points anywhere outside the city of Glendale over the lines of the Verdugo Hills Transportation company.
For the present, schedule on all lines will be arranged to cross the intersection of Broadway or Colorado and Brand boulevard, and Colorado and Glendale avenue, every half hour from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., and every hour thereafter until midnight.

It is the intention of this company to have every schedule of the local service cross the lines of the Verdugo Hills Transportation company, with a close connection with their through service from Montrose to Los Angeles.

MORE LIGHTS ARE WANTED ON SAN FERNANDO

Sections North and South of Lighted Portions
Now Asking

Petitions are being circulated by the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association for lights to be installed along San Fernando road from Los Angeles street to the city limits of Burbank, and also from Los Feliz road to the southern limits of the city, according to an announcement made this morning by L. H. Wilson, realtor, of South San Fernando road.

These lights will be of the two-globe variety, such as are now standing on San Fernando road between Los Feliz and Los Angeles street.

Petitions are also being circulated for the installation of the same kind of electrolights on Los Feliz road from Glendale avenue to the western city limits.

The property owners on San Fernando road between Los Feliz and Brand boulevard, have agreed to remove all the trees in front of their property in order to make way for the business structures that are certain to line that thoroughfare.

These and other improvements for South Glendale forecast that that section is destined before a great while to experience the greatest property value boom in its history. The owners of property in the old Tropic business section on San Fernando road are awake to their opportunity along this line and are painting up their stores and improving their business houses preparatory to the activity.

HUSKIES CALLED TO LEGION LOTS TO FINISH CLEANUP

Tomorrow evening at 5 o'clock the work of cleaning the American Legion property at the corner of Mountain and Campbell streets will be continued under the direction of Comrade James H. Wittmeyer, chairman of the lot cleaning committee.

With the aid of 20 men of Post 27 the chairman claims he should finish the job tomorrow night. So, comrades, get into your fatigue clothes and report at Legion lot as near about 5 o'clock as is convenient. Eats will be provided and all will have a jolly time.

From the lot the fatigue-clothes men will drive to the Legion hall at 610A East Broadway for the regular weekly meeting of Post 127.

PATTERSON PLUNGE TO BE OPEN NIGHTS

For the remainder of the summer season the plunge at Patterson Avenue Park will be open every Thursday and Saturday nights from 6:30 until 8:30 o'clock.

way to Glendale avenue, where it would connect with the present Los Angeles-Glendale-Montrose line of this company.

Proposed extension to be added later—From the corner of Brand and Broadway west on Broadway to Pacific avenue, north on Pacific to Glenwood road, and west on Glenwood to the westerly city limits.

The bus plan itself as a solution for Glendale transportation problems has met with favor from a business standpoint. It would bring many people in frequently from points at a distance from car lines. The companies are not requesting a franchise for a term of years, but merely wish to be granted a permit, that is, to be revocable at any time. This would avoid all possibility of monopoly and safeguard the people.

The outlines submitted to the city council on August 9 were printed in the Glendale Daily Press, issue of August 10. These put the bus proposition before the people in complete detailed form. All those who have followed the competition of the two companies are affected by the proposed plans are urged by the city council to be on hand tonight at the city hall, for a general discussion of the question, it is understood.

BIG CEREMONIAL OF SCIOTS FRIDAY NIGHT

With an adjourned meeting of Glendale Sciots scheduled for tonight, final plans will be made for the big ceremonial of Glendale Pyramid No. 38. Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots that will take place on Friday night, September 7, in the new Daily Press hall, 333 North Brand boulevard. Every Sciote will be present to join in the festivities, which it is said will be the greatest event of its kind ever held in the San Fernando valley.

All Sciote candidates are requested to be present at the hall at 6:30 p. m. on Friday.
There will be hundreds of out-of-town visitors present. Invitations have been sent to all Pyramids of Sciots in Southern California. At the meeting of the Los Angeles Pyramid, which numbers about 1000 members, held Wednesday night, it was decided that organization would attend the ceremonial in a body and bring along its own band.

The first big event of the evening will be a street parade, with costumes and stunts that promise to be a real treat. Glendale's Sciote band of forty pieces will be on hand to furnish some of the music. After the parade the initiatory work will take place. This will be followed by a program of entertainment extraordinary. Four big headline acts, including Molly Milldrim, have been obtained. Sciote Murdy will be in charge of the entertainments. The acts are being procured through the co-operation of Sciote K. A. Louis of Los Angeles Pyramid No. 30. Sciote Mathieson and his committee will have charge of providing the eats.

Toparch Arthur Diberner and the officers of the local Pyramid are looking forward to the initiation of a class of 100 candidates. All Sciots are asked to bring their applications at the meeting to be held tonight.

Sciote Harry M. Bennett, assisted by scores of committeemen, will have direction of the master ceremonial.

LITTLE HOFFMAN BOY MANGLED BY DOG

With blood streaming from his badly mangled face little Wallace Hoffman, 548 North Sycamore Canyon road, stumbled, screaming into his home shortly before 6 o'clock Wednesday night. Investigation proved that the lad had, while playing in front of his home, been attacked by a large yellow dog. In a dozen or more places the boy's face was pierced by the animal's fangs, and the flesh was terribly torn.

John Hoffman, father of the child, rushed the lad to the Glendale sanitarium, where the injuries were attended to. Afterward Mr. Hoffman endeavored to find the dog, but was unable to do so.

SALVATION ARMY RAISING LARGE RELIEF FUND

So. California's Quota of Ten Million Sum Is
$50,000

Plans have been formulated by the Salvation Army in Southern California under the direction of Brigadier C. R. Boyd, divisional commander, to raise a large part of the $10,000,000 relief fund which Salvationists throughout the world will seek for the immediate relief of stricken Japan. Southern California's quota is $50,000.

Instructions have been forwarded by Brigadier Boyd to all the corps commanders of the southern district on the vital need of quick action to carry out the relief plan urged by General Booth, international head of the Army, in a cable message to the high officials of that organization in this country. In a statement issued today Brigadier Boyd said: "The Salvation Army will take a foremost part in the work of relief and reconstruction in Japan for there is no other organization better equipped or more familiar with the particular needs of the people of the devastated country."

"For twenty-five years the Salvation Army has maintained one of the most progressive branches of its worldwide organization in Japan. It has been in the most intimate touch with all phases of life there and has built up a permanent organization which is particularly well qualified to render immediate service in the hour of need and to take a foremost part in the great work of rehabilitation which is to come."

"Southern California has been blessed in many ways and it now has a greater opportunity than ever to perform a work of real service in behalf of a sister nation that is calling for succor. Through the Salvation Army all may share in giving the help which Japan so sorely needs now. The Army throughout the world is answering the call which has come from Japan and it will take a leading part in the work of relief and reconstruction."

B. R. Sims Demands Only $10,000 of Chief of Police

Chief of Police Fraser of Glendale, through Deputy City Attorney Tarr, this morning filed in the Superior court his answer to a complaint brought against him by B. R. Sims, who for several months has been operating a private patrol in Glendale. In this complaint Sims demands damages to the extent of $10,000, according to Attorney Tarr, declaring that his good name and business had been damaged to that amount by a complaint brought against him by Chief Fraser.

The complaint of Chief Fraser against Sims declares the latter "did wilfully, wrongfully and unlawfully operate, conduct and maintain a patrol system without first paying to the city of Glendale the license fee thereof, in violation of section 5 of said ordinance 615 of said city of Glendale."

Sims, according to Attorney Tarr, declares that he did not operate without a license and that in bringing suit against him Chief Fraser acted "maliciously and without probable cause in procuring said warrant."

In his answer to the complaint Chief Fraser denies the various charges made by Sims and states further that before taking the step against Sims he put the case up to legal authority and was informed that the course he was about to take was proper and legal.

THE ACQUIRING OF VERDUGO PARK FAVORED

Chamber of Commerce Endorses Such Action by Large Majority

The proposition to buy back from Haddock & Nibley the Glendale-Verdugo park before it should pass to other hands, and strong arguments for its value as an asset of a city growing as rapidly as is Glendale with scant opportunity to secure the parks it needs, was presented at the meeting of chamber of commerce directors Tuesday night by P. J. Hayselden.

Director Bentley said if the matter could be handled right he entirely approved the acquisition by the city of this and all other possible park sites while the getting is good, and also the purchase of the high school campus on Harvard as a community center. Lloyd Wilson endorsed Mr. Hayselden's position citing the value to Pasadena of Brookside park where he said he had found it almost impossible to secure a table for a picnic party of twenty the evening before. At least 300 picnic parties were there at the time. He thought the Glendale-Verdugo park had just as good possibilities as Brookside.

President Jesse Smith said: "We ought to get the Verdugo park, we ought to buy the high school grounds, and should secure half a dozen other parks in the different sections of the city."

Mr. Wilson called attention to the ownership by the city of a triangle of land between Glendale avenue and Verdugo road, and its use as a ball park was discussed to some extent.

Roy Kent expressed himself as favorable to the acquisition of a system of parks provided the matter can be handled in the right manner, but he insisted there should be a definite plan toward which the city can work and that brought up the matter of the proposed city planning commission to be appointed by the city council.

MARGARET KNEPPER ENGLISH TEACHER RETURNS TO G.U.H.S.

Miss Margaret Knepper, who was head of the English Department at Glendale High for ten years, beginning 1908, and who went from here to the Hawaiian Islands, where she spent four years, visited Glendale and was the guest of Principal and Mrs. George U. Moyle last week. The past year she has spent at her home in Boise, Idaho, and is now on her way to New York City where she will take up social service work.

CHARGED WITH TOO MUCH SPEED WAS F. M. SMITH. F. M. Smith of 454 Bearnel avenue, Los Angeles, was arrested Tuesday morning by Officer Brewster, the charge against him, according to the police records, being speeding. He was released on $25 bail, pending his hearing at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

THE QUEST

JAMES W. FOLEY

I went to seek for Happiness, and traveled many a day,
But never once I found her as I walked along my way;
I went to seek for Happiness and traveled far and wide,
I did but seek for Happiness and nothing else beside.

I went to seek for Happiness, on land and on the sea,
But never in my seeking did she show her face to me,
By hill and vale I wandered, in every clime and place,
But never did I meet with her, nor ever saw her face.

And all my work I laid aside, and all my tasks were done,
And all my travel seemed in vain, and all my hopes were spent,
And I called her by name aloud, and if she heard my cry
I do not know; but this I know that there was no reply.

And then I came from seeking, by the pathways that I went,
And all my travel seemed in vain and all my hopes were spent,
For nowhere I found Happiness, on land or on the sea,
Although I searched and sought and looked and asked where she might be.

So to my tasks again I went, and quite forgot my quest,
That took me from the North to South and from the East to West,
For if I find not Happiness, I said, I shall not rue,
But do the tasks with gladness that my hands may find to do.

And as I quite forgot my quest, and labored and to spare,
A soul with wondrous beauty came and stood beside my chair:
"I came to seek you at your work," she said, "—to find and bless Thy soul that gladly does its task, for I am Happiness!"

Mrs. M. L. Richards of Nevada is spending some time in Glendale as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison of 323 North Maryland avenue and Dr. Laura Brown and father of Glendale.

George Beauchamp, son of Mrs. Mary Beauchamp of 1210 South Glendale avenue, left Tuesday evening for Kentucky. He will visit his father's relatives while there and will return to Glendale the latter part of October.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas spent a few days at Wheeler Hot Springs, returning home Monday evening. They were accompanied by Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Crawford, and Mrs. Bas. Mrs. Crawford is leaving for her home in Fresno the latter part of this week after a month's stay in Glendale with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Henry and family and Mrs. Henry's sister, Miss Edna Banfield of Plattsburg, New York, have returned from a two weeks' motor trip to Yosemite and along the coast. They also visited San Francisco, the big trees, Big Basin, and stopped several days at Santa Cruz. Miss Banfield has been visiting here for the past three months and is planning to leave Saturday for her home in the east.

P. E. EDENDALE CAR SERVICE NOT TO BE CHANGED NOW

On behalf of the transportation committee of the chamber of commerce which attended the conference of representatives of residents living between Glendale and Edendale with the public utilities committee of Los Angeles and officials of the P. E. held at the Los Angeles city hall Tuesday afternoon, H. L. Finlay reported to chamber of commerce directors that the public utilities committee and P. E. officials were agreed that it was impracticable at this time to extend the Edendale line to the Glendale city limits. There will therefore, be no change in the present service between Los Angeles and Glendale.

HUGE COMPLAINTS IN JUSTICE COURT

Over 200 Cases Cited Against 73 Eagle Rock Defendants

Two interesting complaints, each about as thick through as a telephone book or family bible, have been filed this week in the court of Judge Harry W. Chase of this city. In both the complainant is the Western Group Securities Company, a corporation. One is filed against Charles F. Rebnall and 72 other defendants, all residents of Eagle Rock for their liability as stockholders in the Western Mortgage Guaranty Company, the complaint reciting 307 separate causes of action against the defendants, who are being sued for sums running all the way from $12.86 to $257.20 with interest for two years.

The other complaint has been filed by the same corporation against about the same number of defendants, all residents of Eagle Rock, and recites 152 causes of action and liability of stockholders for sums ranging from $7 to $252.50 with interest for two years. The actions are brought to recover for money borrowed by the corporation. When it failed to pay the amounts as they became due, all those who had loaned the money assigned their rights to this complainant under provisions of the laws of this state whereby a stockholder in a corporation is personally liable for his proportion of the indebtedness and liabilities of the corporation contracted or incurred during the time the individual has been a stockholder in the corporation that the stock owned by him bears to the whole capital stock subscribed.

A complaint seldom recites more than two or three separate causes of action. No time for hearing has been set. When it is Judge Chase will probably have to hold court at the city hall in order to have room for all the defendants summoned.

Judge Chase has rendered decisions in several cases brought before him this week. One was an action brought by J. C. McQuiston against Porter M. Custer to collect rent for a house vacated two years ago. Judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for $230. Another action was brought by William H. Hooper against B. C. Garrell for automobile tires purchased and not paid for. Mr. Hooper received judgment for $66.44.

In the case of Celso Chavez vs. J. C. Acosta judgment was given the plaintiff in the sum of $38.50 for the digging of cesspools.

NASHES ENTERTAIN COUSIN, ENSIGN CHAPMAN

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Nash and family of 711 North Central avenue had the pleasure of entertaining over the week-end their young cousin, Ensign Ellsworth Chapman of the United States dreadnaught Idaho. Mr. Chapman graduated in June from Annapolis, and was assigned to the Idaho, which arrived at San Pedro last Saturday.

ASHCRAFTS TOUR U. S. AND CANADA

Norman Ashcroft and Dr. Libby Ashcroft, his wife, are leaving Saturday morning for Alaska and after taking in points of interest there will go east via the Canadian National Railway, 700 miles north of the Canadian Pacific line. They will stop in Pelican Lake, Wis., to visit a cousin of Dr. Ashcroft's who has a cottage there, and from there will go to Chicago, the former home of the doctor and Mr. Ashcroft. After renewing acquaintance with old friends there they will continue east to Toronto, go down the St. Lawrence to Montreal and south to Boston and to the old family home of Mr. Ashcroft at Warren, Mass. From there they will go to New York and Washington, thence by steamer to New Orleans and back to Glendale by rail the latter part of October. As they have just sold their house at 1159 Melrose avenue, they will be busy building a new one after their return on acreage they own in Sherlock Canyon, west of Brand's Castle.

FIVE GLENDALE FAMILIES ENJOY BIG BEAR OUTING

A party of Glendale folk enjoyed a pleasant four days' vacation at Big Bear, returning late Monday evening. The party stayed at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bentley. They found the fishing at the lake quite good. A severe thunder storm detracted from the pleasure of the return trip.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bentley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. John Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Baggis and Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley and children.

W.C.T.U. Will Meet on Friday Afternoon

The house was decorated throughout with dahlias. The guests included Mrs. Albert Ca-wood, Mrs. Krick, Mrs. J. E. Anderson, Mrs. Fern Clark, Mrs. Charles Schaffer, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Seeger, Mrs. Harry Duke, Mrs. H. B. Stecker and Mrs. Goldsmith.

PENDROY'S SOCIAL SEASON OPENS
FRIDAY

Annual Party for Children; Gold Ring for Every Chaperoned Kiddie

The social season is beginning at Pendroys. It is opening tomorrow (Friday) afternoon with the store's annual children's party, from 3 to 5. The kiddies know what that means for most of the Glendale youngsters were guests of the store last year and had a royal time. Each kiddie who comes accompanied by a "grown up" will receive a real gold ring. Think of that!

A wonderful program is to be provided by clever kiddies that are pupils in the Wood's School of Dramatic Art and Dancing, the numbers including:

"Fan Dance," Charles Reeves. "Chinese Dance," Joseph Taylor. "Fairy Dance," Evelyn Moltz. Reading and dance, "Alice's Blue Gown," by Kathleen Woods. Reading and dance, "Fish, Fish, Fish," by Dorothy Woods.

These will be supplemented by other talent. Following this program there will be a children's fashion show of charming dresses, coats and hats for kiddies which will be displayed by little girls well known in Glendale.

The piano which will be used in connection with the program is being loaned by the Glendale Music Company.

These parties, as stated, are annual affairs inaugurated by Mrs. Earl Pendroy who likes to play fairy godmother to the children of Glendale, as she is daffy about kiddies and takes more interest in their department in the big store than in almost any other under its roof.

GELMOR SECURES EXCLUSIVE DESIGNER

South Brand boulevard, announces that he has secured the services of Mr. F. M. Walters, exclusive designer and fitter who for many years catered to the fashionable public of Chicago, for all the leading tailors of that city. He has recently left the establishment of one of the best known Los Angeles tailors, where he has held the position of cutter for three years.

Mr. Gelmor states that the most complete assortment of choice fabrics ever ordered in the history of his establishment has arrived for fall and winter. These are all of the finest quality and include all the season's novelties. There are tweeds, worsteds, cashmeres, and full dress suitings in a variety of shades from which the most fastidious should be able to make a satisfactory selection. And the price is right. It is Mr. Gelmore's aim to extend to the public the same efficient, exclusive service that they can get anywhere else. But he likewise offers this service at far more reasonable prices.

All tailoring, for both ladies and men, is done in the local shop, under the personal supervision of Mr. Gelmor or his efficient assistants. The establishment is equipped with all modern tailoring facilities. Mr. Gelmor has also received a beautiful line of wool skirtings for fall, and a full line of overcoats are on display.

MRS. W. L. MOORE
ENTERTAINS HER
BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. W. L. Moore of 700 North Central avenue entertained the members of the Midweek Auction Bridge club at her home Wednesday afternoon. The guests included Mrs. James Apfel, Mrs. Emma Blatz, Mrs. W. H. Boothby, Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mrs. Thim, Mrs. W. E. Halstead, Mrs. Bollinger of South Pasadena and Mrs. Bishop. High score was made by Mrs. Chester Kling. Mrs. George Smith will entertain the club at its next meeting, which will be held at the Sunset Canyon Country club.

SCIOTS TO MEET TONIGHT AND PLAN BIG PARADE

Sciots take notice! Tonight, in Glendale Press hall, a final meeting will be held to complete plans for the great ceremonial which takes place Friday night when the Sciots parade will march down Brand boulevard from this hall. All officers and committeemen are expected to be in attendance on tonight's meeting.

One hundred and twenty-five candidates for admission to the Glendale Pyramid have been balloted upon and accepted. The secretary finds that several have failed to receive official notice of acceptance. Every one who has placed a petition in the hands of any Sciots to be balloted upon has been accepted and all such candidates should present them Friday night at the Glendale Press Hall at 5:30 to report to the Sciots secretary, whether they have received notification or not.

INGLEDUE SAYS
BUSINESS IS GOOD
ON E. BROADWAY

"Business is good," said C. W. Ingledue, the wide awake realtor of 632½ East Broadway, owner of the Ingledue building at the corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue.

"There was a short time this summer when things were a little dull, due, no doubt, to the fact that the people of Southern California were on their vacations. But during the past few weeks things have been humming. There has been something doing every minute and the way the inquiries have been coming in is extremely encouraging."

"That the coming fall and winter months will be filled with activity and the best along the real estate line that the city has ever known, is my honest opinion. Everything points to the coming few months at least being world beaters. The only thing, as I see it, that can check the advancement of this city is for the tourist to cease coming to California, which is altogether improbable."

"I believe there will be wonderful activity in the Glendale avenue, Broadway, Colorado section, this fall and winter. Nothing can keep that section back. The improvement work that is under way and in prospect is sure to make things ramble along."

"Just keep your eye on the east side."

'WAYS AND MEANS'
PLANS TUESDAY
CLUB'S WORK

The ways and means committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, which is composed of curators of the various sections, together with the vice president of the club, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, met on the east terrace of the clubhouse on Wednesday, September 5, at 2:30 o'clock, when plans were outlined for the season's activities.

Never in the history of the Tuesday Afternoon club was the combined efforts of all the members so necessary to place this organization at the very top as now, and the indefatigable women who spare no effort to raise funds desire the further cooperation of the public, which has hitherto been given.

It has been decided that each section of the club choose a month at which time an affair will be given, whereby funds can be secured and in this way there will be no conflict of events.

The Society Circus, which will take place on November 16 and 17, will be the main feature of the season and a truly wonderful affair is being planned. On Saturday, September 22, at 8 p. m., Henry Cantor, American singer of note and a resident of Glendale, will appear in concert at the club auditorium in scenes from Cavaleri Rusticana and Pagliacci.

At the close of the business session refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

CANADIAN CLUB

Members to meet. All members of the Glendale Canadian club are urged to be present at the social and business meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Knights of Pythias hall at Park avenue and South Brand boulevard.

WONDER POLICE DOG IN FILM AT THE GATEWAY

The praises of a police dog are being sung to the skies in Hollywood because of one of the most heroic acts ever performed by a dog.

The hero is Rintintin, the police dog, champion jumper and screen actor, whose almost human intelligence saved the life of a little seven-year-old tot recently. If not for his endurance and prompt action, the little girl, Harriet Stone, would have lost her life in a deep quagmire.

The little girl had made friends with Rintintin in the studios where a picture in which the dog appears was under progress. One day the girl came and asked permission to take Rintintin to the woods. The two went out, little Harriet picking flowers and the dog trotting near her. Suddenly she began to sink in a quagmire. Rintintin ran to her, the girl grasped him. She sank deeper and deeper till she was breast deep. Rintintin stood firm to his task, remaining with his charge till the morning, too exhausted to make a sound.

In the morning a searching party that had failed to locate them the previous night, discovered them. Some flowers dropped by the child proved a clue to their presence.

Beside being a hero in real life, Rintintin, by a curious coincidence, plays the role of a hero in his latest picture, "Where the North Begins," a romance of the North; he is the pivot around which swing the characters in the story; Shag Galloway, the tyrannical factor of the Hudson Bay post, whose eyes of longing are cast on young Felice McTavish; Gabriel Dupre, the French Canadian trapper and Felice's sweetheart, who is wounded by a gang of outlaws in Galloway's employ, and left for dead, till the arrival of the wolf dog gives him his chance to fight back.

Added attractions are the Fittinger Kiddies, residents of Glendale, in a miniature musical revue, featuring little Corinne Fittinger, the wonder violinist. Claude L. Riemer, formerly organist and musical director at Loew's State Theater, is now at the organ.

BUICK DAY
Sept. 8th in GLENDALE

Truths in Epigrams

There is music in the beauty, and the silent note which Cupid strikes, far sweeter than the sound of an instrument.—Browne.

Long is the way and hard, that out of hell leads up to light.—Milton.

Do you think I was born in a wood to be afraid of an owl?—Swift.

IN THE FAR FUTURE

It must be that there is to come a day when nations will have reached a spiritual plane so high, that the thought of war will be as repugnant to the collective intelligence, as the thought of murder now is to the individual. Either this, or civilization is destined to go back to worse than barbarism. The potentiality of development towards better things lies even in barbarism. In the wreck of civilization, as portrayed for example, in one of the novels of Wells, there would be the lack of this opportunity. Ruin would be complete, and so marked by finality that into the situations there could come no ray of light. Even now civilization is on trial.

In the veins of Europe still runs the poison of hatred, the lust for conquest. The great war, so fondly hoped to be the last, seems to have accomplished nothing. The clearing up of situations it was thought to have accomplished, the stabilization it was to have set up, the understanding it was to have established, all proved to have been chimeras of a dream. The fair vision that was seen of men has vanished.

It may be that in arranging terms, human judgment erred. Perhaps had the war been conducted to a finish rather than stayed before issues had been determined, that out of the victory would have emerged real and lasting triumph. As it was, there was no victory unless achieved by the defeated. The work of justice was not fulfilled. The stipulations reached appear not to have pleased any power concerned. They led to confusion rather than to amity. Instead of stimulating industry, and bringing back the seasons of seedtime and harvest, they led the powers to maintain everywhere the front of hostility. The result begins to be seen.

As to what the moral force of the United States might have accomplished had it entered the League of Nations, it is idle now to speculate. It elected not to enter, and the compact, thus crippled, never acquired any high degree of adequacy. Because Italy, under a virtual dictatorship, resents an outrage for which Greece is held responsible, Europe is at the edge of the abyss.

The United States can do no more. It went to the rescue of Europe; went in good faith, with men and millions and equipment. Europe evidently had no genuine desire to be rescued; only to be dragged back from immediate calamity. Recklessly it plunges to renewal of the conflict. This time the people of the United States will take the role of observers.

As said in the beginning, nations may reach a plane above the brutality and vulgarity of war. They still are a long way below it. It may be that the change is to come through more desolation and suffering; but it may be that civilization is destined not to survive the ordeal.

"SET BACK A GENERATION"

One paper in Japan sends forth the despairing verdict that the earthquake has set the country back a generation. It no longer will be rated as the fourth among nations. It will be bankrupt and ruined.

Bad as the disaster must be accounted, probably there is a chance to be unduly pessimistic. If so the editor has seized the chance. As to being rated fourth among nations, the matter has not the vital importance suggested by oriental pride. So that a nation still have the privilege of pursuing the ways of peaceful industry, of being left alone, and refrain from molesting others, to boast of its rank is purely a tribute to its egotism.

Almost invariably the first narration of losses after any cataclysm is an exaggeration. In lives Japan has lost a large number, but only a fraction of what might have been lost in a war. Much of the property now considered as wiped out, probably will be salvaged. The architectural habit of Japan does not make the average building costly. With the exception of a few modern buildings, the structures as a rule are cheap and flimsy.

Japan still will have credit. It will be embarrassed but not driven out of business. The destruction of a single city will have more effect, for example, than the destruction of San Francisco had in this country, but considerable less than the effect necessary to set the country "back a generation."

CONFUSION IN GERMANY

Probably it was much to the surprise of the world in general that the royalist party of Germany has made so strong a showing. Leading the demonstration were such familiar military figures as Ludendorff and Hindenburg. These were among the number that the allies so frankly declared were to be punished, and who were so frankly and freely granted immunity. Ever since the war they have sought to hold the old junker elements together. Apparently their success has not been small.

The republic of Germany has had a difficult experience. On the one hand it has had to contend with royalist opposition. On the other, it has been pressed by the bolsheviks, under whatever name. It faces the chance of civil war just at a time when its finances have reached the lowest possible ebb, since the currency of a country cannot be worth much less than nothing.

Probably a civil war would be welcomed by the royalists. It would give them their opportunity. Germans have been drilled to respect authority, but to recognize as authoritative only the order that has behind it the force of arms. Therefore if the common people were to rebel against the government, it is highly probable that they would find themselves under the direction of the royalists, and, if victory crown their efforts, would soon realize that they had done nothing but obtain a new master. They would have been pulling chestnuts out of the fire for the royalists, and for their endeavor have nothing to show but burned fingers.

REASON AND COMPROMISE

It is easy for Americans, dwellers in a land of peace and prosperity, to perceive the folly of Europe. The people of that continent decline to reason or to consider compromise in the face of conditions that must be adjusted. This manifestly is the spirit of folly. To seek to cure one wrong by perpetration of a wrong more monstrous, involving innocent people, burdening future generations, is a course that admits of no logical defense. But a similar spirit is shown in this country.

Mine operators and operatives fail to agree. Doubtless there is error on both sides. Without question the operators have been arbitrary in some of their rulings. Without question the operatives have made demands so framed as to tend to excite opposition rather than acquiescence. Neither faction will admit that the public has any interest in the issue, whereas the public does have a vital interest. Neither is willing to yield a point. The miners drop their tools, the mines become idle, and the certainty that wide suffering is to be the result, receives no consideration whatever.

This is akin to the temper that Europe is showing. Less serious in effect, it is serious enough to cause grave apprehension.

The spectacle of the reproduction of the pony express brings out prominently the wonderful changes in methods of transport and communication in a short space of years. The event is being made as true as possible to the original, but there is no way of providing the old conditions of danger. The rider's scalp is not in peril, and there is no chance of his reaching his station pinned to the saddle by an arrow.

Twelve years ago a woman reached Santa Monica, assured by doctors that she had tuberculosis, and could not live but a short time. Last week she celebrated her 63d birthday by swimming eleven miles in the ocean. She finished the task feeling so well that she sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" just to show that she was all right.

CURIOUS SPIRITUAL CHANGES

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

One who makes a study of his own nature can find much to rouse wonder and interest.

That we change with the years is a trite observation. It is the way we change that is of interest and some of the inner transformations that men undergo are so curious and inexplicable that we often wonder what forces have been working quietly at work in our spiritual laboratories to produce them.

For example, a woman of my acquaintance had never liked green. All her youth and during the early years of her maturity she considered it an ugly color. One day, however, when she was about 45 she stopped before a jeweler's window in which was displayed a miniature on porcelain. The subject, a beautiful woman, had about her shoulders a drapery of green velvet and it suddenly struck the woman who had never liked green that the drapery was the loveliest thing she had ever beheld.

"I've rested me all through," she said with a little puzzled frown, "and ever since I have loved green."

"That is because green is the color of renewal," said an oculist who was present. "It is the color of spring and of young, virile things."

Be that as it may, the woman has ever since been devoted to green and she often wonders why she never liked it in her youth.

Another woman of my acquaintance always loved to see women dressed in a certain style of white sport clothes, the kind so much in vogue at summer resorts and sea coast hotels. During the past summer she was sitting at breakfast in a fashionable hotel on the Pacific coast when a woman gownned immaculately in just such sport clothes came into the room.

Before she took her seat my friend looked up and recoiled.

"I shall never again like such clothes," she affirmed. "They are the uniform of selfishness. That woman never in her life did anything but study how to dress at places of amusement."

And then, turning with a curious expression she continued:

"Why did I say that when I have not even seen that woman's face? But just the same I have a feeling against those clothes; they repel me."

I've known similar changes to occur in one's taste for food, music, of housefurnishings. Something has been going on in the unknown depths of one's nature and what that is, or why it is, it must for the present be among the mysteries.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

No wonder we understand ourselves so imperfectly.

THE LISTENING POST

By JAMES W. FOLEY

Plans.
Schemes.
Theories.
This and that and the other.

All put forth and set forth for the benefit of the citizen and taxpayer.

Put forth by speech.
By propaganda.
By resolution.
By the press.
From the soap box.
By the orator.

Resolutions.
Declarations.
Remarks.
Again this and that and the other.

To increase pay.
To lessen taxes.

To reduce prices.

Platforms.

Planks.

Blocs.

Legislation.

Again this and that and the other.

To produce prosperity.

To make for thrift.

To put money into savings banks.

To make the pay check go farther.

To increase prices of things we have to sell.

To reduce prices of things we have to buy.

That would be an ideal state, of course.

To increase our pay a hundred per cent.

To decrease our outlay a hundred per cent.
Or fifty per cent.
And let us have everything net.
No outgo.
All profit.

But if we reduce the price the manufacturer charges by a great degree we compel him to reduce wages to some degree.
If our pay is increased, somebody must find more profit to pay the increase.

It is and has been always rather a mixed and difficult problem, this matter of income and outgo.

And the good old average citizen has found that it takes about all his receipts to make all of his payments.

And that taxes remain about the same no matter who is elected to the village council.

Prosperity cannot be induced by legislation. Neither can thrift.

Neither can extravagance and waste be curtailed and checked by legislation.

These are personal matters to a great extent.

One man lives and saves and prospers finally upon a given salary.

Another is in debt and need upon the same wage allowance.

Yet both live under the same flag.

The same government.

The same system.

We are coming to rely too much on legislation for the things we should accomplish ourselves.

Songs of the Poets

"O Saw Ye the Lass"—By Richard Ryan

O, saw ye the lass wi' the bonny blue een?
Her smile is the sweetest that ever was seen;
Her cheek like the rose is, but fairer, I ween;
She's the loveliest lassie that trips on the green.
The home of my love is below in the valley,
Where wild-flowers welcome the wandering bee;
But the sweetest of flowers in that spot that is seen
Is the maid that I love wi' the bonny blue een.

When night overshadows her cot in the glen,
She'll steal out to meet her loved Donald again;
And when the moon shines on the valley so green,
I'll welcome the lass wi' the bonny blue een.
As the dove that has wandered away from his nest
Returns to the mate his fond heart loves the best,
I'll fly from the world's false and vanishing scene.

THE UNENDING STRUGGLE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE unending struggle that goes on between Science and Superstition. The long conflict in which the human race is engaged in its struggle upward is a battle between knowledge and ignorance.

This was illustrated the other day in an address delivered at Tokio, in Japan, by Dr. Omori, a distinguished professor who has made a careful study of earthquakes.

He recalled the established theory that continents had probably been formed by the gradual elevation of the land. This must stop finally, and then comes a settling down. It is this settling down that causes the disturbance.

In Japan there are fifty-two volcanoes, including the active and dormant and excluding the dead ones.

In a certain sense volcanic eruptions may be regarded as keeping the physical economy of the earth unchanged and preventing the occurrence of tremendous changes which would occur if there were no quakes or eruptions.

Much of the beautiful scenery of Japan, including the well-known Mt. Fuji, is of volcanic origin.

It is interesting to note how the scientific views have ousted the superstitious.

Different mountains in Japan had their proper gods and the various sounds from them in older times were regarded as manifestations of the wrath of these gods, just as children imagine thunder to be the voice of the Deity. When these noises were heard it was the custom to raise at once the court rank of the god who was raising the racket. Since agitators among men could be quoted by giving them official position, why could not the gods be appeased in the same way? Mt. Aso, the oldest known volcano in the country, had made trouble so long that his court rank had been successively raised until finally he reached the rank of senior of the second grade, which meant a very high position indeed.

The smoke from Mt. Asama, the most active volcano in Japan, was supposed to have come directly from the fires of hell.

Another superstition was that "volcanic hair" fell from the heads of these volcanic gods, but now science declares that this is no more than lava thrown out and carried by the winds.

As certain waters turn red after volcanic eruptions it was once a belief that it was caused by blood; science has punctured this and accounts for the color by the effect of volcanic acids and gases on water.

In all Oriental countries earthquakes and volcanic eruptions were regarded as forerunners of great events. Hard-headed science, however, tells us that the basis of this belief is probably that the most of such disturbances are preceded by slighter tremors which are perceived by people with peculiarly sensitive nerves.

To some it seems too bad that these picturesque, primitive beliefs have been destroyed by the ruthless apostles of science. However, a time must come, if we are ever to grow up, when we must discover that after all there is no Santa Claus.

It may also be a pertinent reflection to remember that with every great advance or uplift in human conditions there must ensue a certain period of settling down; and that not all disturbances imply the coming of chaos; some of them may be but the promise of a better stability.

The professor who has rewritten the New Testament into modern English has accomplished nothing of benefit. Charm of composition is one of the compelling elements of the matchless book.

A mysterious stranger who recently died at Ukiah is said to have left a fortune of five millions. He had no fortune. Hence the mystery.

A Porterville bootlegger raised two checks he had received for moonshine. It's dangerous to deal with those chaps.

Theorists who hold that the way to train children is to let them run wild, are ignorant of many things, but most notably, of children.

As usual the Red Cross is showing that it draws no racial line when there are signals of distress in sight.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHAT CARELESSNESS COSTS

[Lynn Item]

Reports of automobile accidents in the United States to date indicate that deaths from such cause in 1923 will exceed 15,000—which averages a death every fifty minutes. And those injured in such accidents, it is estimated by insurance companies, will exceed 170,000. While the number of automobiles in use has greatly increased, carnage wrought and injuries inflicted are not to be figured as necessarily subject to corresponding increase. The figures above cited are, in large part, to be listed as the toll that the nation pays to carelessness on the part of motorists and pedestrians. For most automobile accidents are avoidable. The great majority of them are attributable to speeding, to reckless driving, to joy riding, to intoxication at the steering wheel, to failure to exercise proper care as to safety appliances, to lack of care on the part of pedestrians and to other carelessness.

The above figures should drive home to all who use the highways the need for exercise of proper care. With victims of accidents numbering above 15,000 annually and with the number of injured exceeding 170,000 the loss in man power that the nation thus sustains becomes staggering. And to this is to be added the direct loss suffered by the families of those killed and the pain and suffering and loss sustained by the injured. And there is the loss in property that is figured in.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The startling calamity that has stricken Japan creates a sympathy that rises above all prejudice. The people of the United States through various organizations will tender bounteous help. In doing so there will be no thought that the Japanese are of different color, different in their mental processes, and their moral conceptions. They will be suffering men, women and children in need of help.

No sooner had news of the great devastation reached this country than preparations were under way for meeting the sudden necessities. Naturally the United States must lead in this matter. It is the only country that, having abundance, is not suffering from the burden imposed by the late war. It is the only one economically free to act. It is not keeping up a military establishment for conquest or to repel the invader.

California has made clear that the presence of Japanese settlers in large numbers is no more welcome than an influx of aliens into Japan would be welcome over there. This has nothing to do with the present situation. The Japanese are in distress. They are hungry, unclad and homeless. These facts are all that need to be considered.

Not long ago an Oriental was fined $25 for some infraction of the law, paid the money and received a receipt. He took the receipt to a trusting banker and passed it as a check or draft or something like that, and got the money.

Attention is called to the fact for the purpose of making the ordinary bunkoman ashamed of the crudity of his methods.

When a Long Beach doctor answered a night summons to visit "a woman in a dying condition" he was merely being lured into a remote spot where he could be robbed, and he was robbed by the supposed messenger.

It goes without saying that a thief so utterly mean deserves life imprisonment.

Billy Sunday declares with fervor that a man who will buy booze "is so low down that he will need an airship to get to hell."

Mr. Sunday has a perfect right to believe in the sort of hell dear to his fancy. If he has any message, however, it might be wished that he could find decent language in which to convey it.

There is a certain dignity to language properly used, but Mr. Sunday does not use language properly, and has no reverence for dignity. When he utters that, which uttered in a respectable fashion, might be effective, he is likely to stir the contempt of the hearer.

To forgive the debts of Europe would be a large contribution to the promotion of wars over there. It would leave the people free to expend all their wealth on arms and munitions, without a lingering thought in the back of their minds that they were under the obligation of honor to pay what they had borrowed in apparent good faith.

It is observed that Bobbie something or other, has been summoned into court for a breach of the law and that her courage, Billie already has been there.

Bobbie and Billie both are girls. It is singular that so many young females should select masculine names, while there are plenty of names applicable to their sex.

One commentator mentions the super-dreadnaught as a super-joke since "one flying man could sink it."

Singular that so vital a truth should not have dawned upon the understandings of naval experts who have made many tests. For some reason they have retained faith in the super-dreadnaught. Of course they may change their minds when they find how the commentator feels about it.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE HOSE

Uncle Tom is very fond of Betty. At times his fondness for her gets the upper hand of his judgment and plays pranks with it and him. Also Betty.

Betty is three, chubby and active; like a fat puppy rolling gleefully about under your feet most of the time. Betty was on the mat at her mother's feet on the porch waiting for bedtime. She was feeling the need of a little more exercise before falling into bed.

"Mother, Betty play with the hose? Betty water the flowers some little?"

"No," said the mother decidedly. "You'd get all in a mess and get yourself excited and it's near your bedtime. You've played enough for today."

"Betty wants to hose," she quivered. "Wants to h-o-o-s-e."

"O let her have a little play before she goes to bed. It's a warm night, too," interposed Uncle Tom.

"It's a warm night and she ought to keep quiet," said mother mildly.

"O, I'll take care of her," said Uncle Tom Langley. "Come on Toots, Uncle'll let you hold the hose."

The fat little legs managed the steps and carried a gleeful Betty across the lawn. Uncle Tom turned on the water and made to open the nozzle.

"Let me, let me," screamed Betty jumping up and down and grabbing for the hose.

She caught it just as the water came and in the catching twisted it full on Uncle Tom arrayed in speckles white flannels.

"Woe," he shouted and dodged. His foot caught in the coil and he slid on the grass landing in the soft flower bed.

All the time Betty held the spray full on him as she caged in open-eyed astonishment at such antics.

"Drop it, Betty," shouted mother. "Drop it."

Betty turned to see what mother was saying, stumbled on the hose and fell to meet Uncle Tom who had snail risen. Together they rolled on the muddy bed, the hose spouting valiantly between them.

Mother ran to save the day. She turned off the hose and disentangled the muddy, howling Betty.

Uncle Tom turned toward the house. He would have to remake the toilet that he had so painstakingly made before going to make the call of the evening.

"Here," said mother mercilessly. "Take her along and clean her up at the same time. Finish together."

Father looked reproachfully at her as she turned to her chair on the porch.

"He needs it," said she grimly. "When he has one of his own he'll know better than to let her have the hose unless they both have on bathing suits. He thought I was depriving Betty of a real pleasure. Now he knows!"

PRES. COOLIDGE HEADS BOY SCOUTS

Gladly Accepts Office of Honorary President of Organization

President Calvin Coolidge has signified his readiness to accept the honor of the presidency of the Boy Scouts of America, according to a message received this morning by Scout Executive Harold F. Benner from James E. West, chief scout executive, Boys Scouts of America.

The Federal Act of Incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America provides that each year a formal report shall be transmitted to Congress. The constitution of the Boy Scouts of America provides that the president of the United States shall be the honorary president of the organization and all living ex-presidents of the United States shall be honorary presidents upon their acceptance.

Theodore Roosevelt received the title of chief scout citizen because of his outstanding influence exerted for the advancement of the movement. Presidents Taft and Wilson each served the movement as honorary presidents and are now honorary vice presidents. President Harding was the third honorary president and always an active and influential friend of the Boy Scouts.

President Coolidge sent the following letter to Colin H. Livingstone, president of the Boy Scouts of America, assuring Mr. Livingstone of his willingness to serve in the high office and also speaking a warm word of endorsement for the Boy Scout movement: "My dear Mr. Livingstone: "You may be assured of my readiness to accept the honor of the presidency of the Boy Scouts of America, as other presidents have done from the organization of the Scouts. I esteem this post as one of the incidental duties of a president, and likewise one of the most agreeable among them. I have always been deeply interested in the work of the Scouts which I regard as an ideal mode of citizenship development and character construction. Both my sons are scouts, and my observation of the benefits they have derived from their affiliation has strengthened my conviction of the organization's usefulness. I shall be glad to render any proper service I can to the organization at any time."

"Most Sincerely Yours,
(Signed) CALVIN COOLIDGE."

MEETING OF HIGH
TEACHERS POSTPONED

The general meeting of high school teachers, which was set for Monday morning, has been cancelled. Instead, it will take place Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the high school, before the enrollment of students.

Some men get stage fright in their knees every time they see a policeman.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING

At the first summer meeting of the Glendale Ministerial association, resuming the work of this organization for the fall season, held Wednesday forenoon at the Central Christian church, Rev. V. Hunter Brink was elected president and Rex C. Kelley was elected secretary for the year 1923-24. Rev. Louis Tinning is the retiring president of the association.

At the meeting it was announced that an appeal would be made from all of the churches in Glendale on Sunday for funds for the stricken Japanese people in the earthquake area.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO CLOSE MONDAY

The Chamber of Commerce will be closed Monday which has been named for the celebration of Admission Day.

L. A. HARBOR ASKS FOR MORE FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Co. operating at Los Angeles, asked the interstate commerce commission today for authority to issue $4,850,000 worth of new securities divided as follows:

The sum of $1,000,000 in class "A" preferred stock, and $1,850,000 in class "B" preferred stock, to be made over to the Union Oil company of California in payment of a debt.

Also $2,000,000 in class "B" preferred stock, to provide funds for additions and betterments.

TAX RATE STATEMENT TO BE MAILED WITH BOOKLETS

As a matter of advantageous publicity, Secretary Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce was authorized to print and send out with Chamber of Commerce booklets, a comparison of Glendale's tax rate with the tax rates of other cities.

L. A. JOBBERS TRY TO EXPLAIN DELIVERY CHARGE

A letter received by Secretary Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce and submitted to directors at their last meeting, written by officials of the Jobbers' Association of Los Angeles, admits the truth of the charge made some time ago that Glendale dealers are discriminated against in being charged for the delivery of auto accessories and plumbers' supplies while Pasadena dealers receive them free. "Compelling competition" in Pasadena was given as the reason. Directors discussed the matter and suggested that orders be placed with San Francisco merchants who would deliver for less money and see if Los Angeles jobbers would not come to time.

Secretary Sanders was instructed to write the Jobbers' Association that because of this discrimination, business is going to San Francisco.
